

HOTTEST JUNE DAY HERE IN 22 YEARS

Two Deaths and Many Prostrations in This City and Surrounding Towns.

MERCURY RISES TO 91

But That Was Atop the Whitehall Building, 414 Feet Above the Street.

Seldom in the record of torrid June has a heat wave swept down the city so ardent as that which came out of the steaming West yesterday. The weather experts found in the mid-June records two days away back in 1891 when the mercury had climbed to 93 degrees, but that was when the temperatures of the town were taken much nearer to the air we breathe in the ordinary course of business.

The annual of the period said even then that the official thermometer was not a fair one, as it recorded the comparatively cool air away up on the Eutaw Building. That was the old building, not half so high as the towering Whitehall in Battery place, where there is real cloud cover. But even away up there, 414 feet above the street level, where folks feel other sorts of temperatures, the mercury got to 91 degrees and a fraction at 10 A. M. and stayed there for twenty-five blistering minutes.

A temperature of 91 degrees on an unobstructed elevation means a temperature several degrees hotter down between the walls of steel and stone, and it may be said that yesterday's heat, measured at the height it was measured on June 15 and 16, 1891, was just as intense as it was then.

Street Thermometers Up to 98.

The street thermometers, especially those close to soda fountains, were almost unanimous in proclaiming the afternoon one of the hottest on record, with maximums varying from 93 degrees to 98 degrees. The humidity was comparatively low, and that alleviated the suffering of the countless. There were hotter places and among the most tropical of these was Chicago, which was sweltering under a maximum of 98 degrees. Phoenix, Ariz., which believes itself fairly cool with a temperature of 98 degrees, equaled Chicago, and Baltimore was in the same class, with 98 degrees. Washington was baking under a sun that sent the mercury up to 96 degrees and Philadelphia was suffering under 94 degrees.

The national prophets promise a little relief to-day. They believe there will be some coolness from the lake region. The prophets say "not quite so warm" to-day and promise "somewhat lower temperatures on Wednesday." Yesterday's deaths and prostrations due to heat were:

The Dead.
DREYFUS, EDWARD, 60 years old, salesman, Arden, Court, 172 St. Nicholas, came suicide by gas while suffering from the heat.
KELLY, JAMES, 61 years old, no address, died in St. Nicholas Hospital, Newark, of sunstroke.

Prostrations.
ARMSTRONG, JOSEPH, driver, 212 Smith street, Brooklyn, prostration while driving truck, fell under train and received internal injuries and fractured ribs. To the House of Relief, condition serious.
BENTLEY, J. R. broker, Hotel McAlpin, acute indigestion caused by the heat. To the House of Relief.
FAY, WILLIAM, 22 years old, of 352 Maple street, Brooklyn, heat prostration, taken home.
MCDONNELL, WILLIAM, 34 years old, 1230 Southern Boulevard, heat prostration, to the Lincoln Hospital.
MILLER, COMP, 17 years old, 58 Elmer Park, Brooklyn, heat prostration, to the Lincoln Hospital.
STELHANS, NICHOLAS, 38 years old, of 61 Adelphi street, Brooklyn, heat prostration, to the Lincoln Hospital.
WILSON, Nellie, cleaner, of 1005 Franklin avenue, Brooklyn, heat prostration while at work on Grand Central station. To the Swedish Hospital.
WILLIAMS, Isabelle, stenographer, 445 Ninth-street, Brooklyn, acute indigestion caused by the heat. To the House of Relief.
WOLFE, GEORGE P., lawyer, 715 West 128th street, acute indigestion caused by the heat. To the House of Relief.
CATANTA, Frank, 2 years old, 456 West Twenty-seventh street, fell from fire escape fourth floor, to New York Hospital, condition critical.

Suicide Due to the Heat.
Edward Dreyfus, a salesman living at the Arundel Court, 772 St. Nicholas avenue, was found dead in his room at 7 o'clock last night with a gas tube in his mouth, after spending most of the day complaining of the temperature.

In Newark, James Kelly, address unknown, had a sunstroke and died.
Of the heat prostration cases taken to hospitals, the greater part were of persons who had been stricken while walking on the street. These were only a small fraction of the total number of persons who required medical attendance because of the heat. The number of ambulance calls sent in to the New York Hospital alone was more than forty. A good part of these were to attend persons suffering from the heat. Many of the sufferers received minor injuries as they fell to the sidewalk.

Eight Deaths in Chicago.

Eight deaths and nearly fifty prostrations were reported at Chicago. At points in Indiana and down-State Illinois the temperature was taken unofficially at maximum heights of 108 degrees.

Large numbers of animals received at the stockyards from Western points were found dead in the cars. Sixty dead hogs were found in a single car.

St. Louis, where the temperature reached 95 degrees, reported only two prostrations and no deaths.

Six deaths and twenty prostrations were reported in Philadelphia. The day was the hottest in the forty-two years of the Philadelphia Weather Bureau's experience. A storm last night ended the suffering.

In Providence one death and two prostrations were reported.

One man was killed by the heat in Cleveland and the deaths of a number of babies were recorded as attributable to the high temperature.

Bryan Cancels More Dates.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Owing to pressure of business from the State Department, Secretary Bryan has cancelled two speaking engagements for this week. One was tonight at Clarkstown, Mass., and the other June 17 at Washington until July 1.

REPUBLICANS FOR WHITMAN.

But Decide Not to Pass Resolutions Before Selecting Fusion Committee.

Seven members of each of the Republican organizations of the five boroughs met yesterday afternoon at the Republican club to decide what their representatives should tell the fusion committee on candidates when they have their say to-night.

Although the talk was all Whitman, no resolutions were passed favoring his candidacy for Mayor. Samuel S. Koenig, president of the New York County Committee, and William M. Cadogan, the Republican Congressman from Brooklyn, Herbert Parsons, who used to be president of the county committee and still keeps his finger in Republican politics, and others believe that it is better policy to reserve positive action until Mr. Whitman's defeat is certain.

The Progressive county committee of New York County had a meeting last night at Murray Hill Lyceum, at which a statement on the Progressive attitude toward fusion was adopted. At the close of the meeting it was said that the Progressives would not take a hard and fast stand on candidates, but that there was a general feeling against Mr. Whitman.

SCHROEDER GOES ON STAND.

Former Engineer Testifies in His Own Defence.

HORNBELL, N. Y., June 16.—After a desperate fight for more than a week the prosecution in the case of Engineer Schroeder, accused of manslaughter, resumed its case this afternoon. Only a few witnesses were sworn by the prosecution during the day. Timothy Houlihan, a neighbor of the accused, testified that he saw Schroeder in a street car on the day of the railroad accident. In conversation Schroeder said that the flagman was as much at fault as he. Schroeder said he had turned to answer a question of the flagman and had run by the signal.

Houlihan said he saw Schroeder the night before the wreck and detected no signs of intoxication.

Counsel for the defense said that it would be shown that no flag or signal was sent out against Schroeder at the time of the accident.

Schroeder was called to the stand this afternoon in his own defence and until to-morrow.

"MRS. FITZHUGH" ADMITS GUILT.

Confesses She Stole Mesh Bags From Women in Churches.

"Mrs. Catherine Randolph Fitzhugh," who now admits that she is Catherine Fennell, pleaded guilty to two grand larceny charges before Judge Swann in General Sessions Court yesterday and will be sentenced Thursday.

She admitted stealing a gold mesh bag from Miss Dorothy Pisk, daughter of King Fisk, in St. Bartholomew's Church on February 2. She also confessed the theft of a mesh bag from Miss Nina Irene Munsey, an actress, in the Church of the Transfiguration, the Latin Church Around the Corner on November 25, 1912.

After the State's case was finished Abraham Levy and Frank E. Johnson, attorneys for "Mrs. Fitzhugh," suggested that she plead guilty. The prisoner then appealed to Judge Swann, telling him that she wanted new counsel. Lawyer Louis Spiegel, who was directed to go with the case, also advised her to plead guilty.

After her plea "Mrs. Fitzhugh" admitted that her real name was Fennell and that her claim to be a Fitzhugh of Virginia had no foundation.

CAN INVEST IN RAILWAY NOTES.
ALBANY, N. Y., June 16.—Attorney General Carmody advised the State Insurance Department to-day that railway equipment notes, issued under conditional sale agreements for the payment of which a solvent corporation of the United States or a State is liable, are legal investments for the surplus funds of life insurance companies.

The question arose concerning the legality of the issue of $1,000,000 five per cent equipment notes of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company issued under an agreement between the railway and the Central Trust Company of New York.

The Attorney General also ruled for the State Banking Department that bonds issued by the State of New Mexico pursuant to the legislative act of June 1, 1912, are legal investments for New York State savings banks. The Attorney General points out that these bonds were issued for funding the debts of the State and the counties, and are expressly secured.

CURRAN TELLS PASTORS OF LOBBY TO AID WALDO

Chairman Says One Alderman Was Chased Around Golf Course by Petitioner.

Alderman Curran and Emory R. Buckner, counsel for the Curran committee, talked to about thirty members of the Federation of Churches at 1 Madison avenue yesterday noon, defending the Curran report and attacking Commissioner Waldo's defence. Alderman Curran said he had heard twenty minutes before than one Alderman was pursued around a golf course on Sunday by a man who beseeched him to vote against the report.

"There is a wonderful lobby working for Commissioner Waldo," Curran told the preachers. "It is so good a lobby that another Alderman got twenty telegrams in one day asking him to vote against the report."

"We have heard of Aldermen who decided to vote for Waldo before our report against him was made."

Mr. Buckner said there was no politics in the report and that he has been waiting day and night for some one to challenge the evidence. He begged the ministers to write to Mr. Waldo, asking four questions as follows:

"What method of Mr. Buckner in getting evidence is it that you deem unfair? Was it in the public hearings or did he use it privately? Please give names, dates and places."
